The Experience of a Lifetime!

KSU’s University College and the Division of Global Affairs have collaborated to create the First-Year Global Fellows Program, a unique experience for first-year students to fulfill many of their general education curriculum requirements by spending five weeks of the fall semester in ITALY!

As a Global Fellow, you spend the first seven weeks of the fall semester on campus, the second five weeks in Italy, and the remaining three weeks back on campus for reflection and finals. This approach is designed to help prepare you to compete in the global market, develop international and national perspectives, and get a head start on your community, civic, and leadership training. As a participating fellow, you will work closely with your faculty at KSU and abroad to get the most out of the experience.

You’ll be home before Thanksgiving!

Your On-Campus Adventure

You will be introduced to Kennesaw State as a traditional student, beginning 12 hours of on-campus coursework, and have access to all campus activities and organizations. You will work with your Global Fellows peers and faculty to foster a meaningful first-year academic experience. After returning from Italy, you will continue working with this group on a series of activities designed to reinforce the connections between your experience abroad, your coursework and, more importantly, your first semester in college and your academic and professional future.

Your Life in Italy

You will spend five weeks in Italy with your Global Fellows peers and faculty, where you meet local leaders, visit area businesses, and tour vineyards, organic farms, and archeological museums. The experience also includes trips to exciting cities like Rome, Pompeii, Florence, and Orvieto.

Imagine standing before Michelangelo’s David or Botticelli’s Birth of Venus or Primavera while your friends at home can only study them through textbooks. Or, picture yourself enjoying a traditional Tuscan meal as you reflect on these impressive works of art during the two-day excursion to Florence with your peers and faculty.

Your Program Coursework

Global Fellows enroll in one of two learning communities (LC 47 or LC 48) to complete 12 hours of their General Education requirements in the following courses:

- KSU1101: First-Year Seminar
- WELL1000: Foundations of Healthy Living
- ART1107: Art in Society
- ENGL1101 (LC 47) or 1102 (LC 48): English Composition

Your Journey Begins

An amazing opportunity like this is more affordable than you think! After applying the $1,000 Global Learning Scholarship (available to most students, subject to eligibility), you pay $3,700, which includes airfare, lodging, four meals a week, museum visits, and transportation (does not include tuition and fees).

At the start of the program, you will attend a reception with the Senior Vice-Provost of Academic Affairs, the Vice-Provost for Global Affairs, and the Dean of the University College.
