FALL SEMESTER 2011

Please Note: Lectures held in Social Science 1019 every Thursday from 12:30-2:00 pm unless otherwise noted.

SEPTEMBER

9/1 Opening Panel: Students Experience of Peru (Panel at 12:30 and student photo exhibit opening in the IGI Gallery at 5:00pm)
9/8 “The Encounter between Atahualpa and Pizarro,” Julio Ortega, Hispanic Studies, Brown University
9/15 “Satirical and Epic Poetry in Early Viceregal Peru: Literary and Cultural Contradictions,”
Pedro Lasarte, Professor of Spanish, Boston University
Jessica Stephenson, KSU.
9/22 “Incason” Concert and Performance, Bailey Hall, 8:00 pm

OCTOBER

10/5 Year of Peru Day, University Rooms ABCD, 12:30 pm
“This festive kick-off event will feature the Andean music of local artists Apu Inka, performances by the KSU Tellers, and the culinary delights of one of Peru's top chefs, Roger Arakaki of Sushi Ito in Lima.”

10/6 “Mountains, Coast, and Jungle: The Importance of Food Variety in Peruvian Cultural Exchange,” Daniel Morales, Professor of Archeology, Universidad Nacional Mayor de San Marcos.

10/13 “The Jaguar Within: the Long History of Shamans and Art in Peru,” Rebecca Rollins Stone, Associate Professor, Art History Department, Faculty Curator of Art of the Ancient Americas, Michael C. Carlos Museum, Emory University

10/20 “Mario Vargas Llosa’s Lima” Ernesto Silva & Miriam Bley, Department of Foreign Languages, KSU

10/27 “Peru and Peruvians in My Novels” Eduardo González-Viana, Professor of Spanish, Western Oregon University

NOVEMBER

11/3 “The Narratives of Clorinda Matto de Turner and Juana Manuela Gorriti,” Alvaro Torres-Calderon, Assistant Professor of Spanish, North Georgia College & University

11/10 “The Great Civilizations of Ancient Peru,” Charles Stanish, Professor, Department of Anthropology, and Director, Cotsen Institute of Archaeology, UCLA

11/17 “Machu Picchu and the Royal Mummies of the Inca Empire: Sacred Landscapes and Enduring Ancestors,” John W. Verano, Professor and Chair of Anthropology, Tulane University

Peruvian Cuisine featured weekly on Fridays in the Commons.

www.kennesaw.edu/yearofperu